Albanian Recce

10th – 20th May 2022

OK, be honest, how much do you know about Albania ?

- ✓ Mother Teresa was Albanian and their only Nobel prize winner. Her full name is Anjezë Gonxhe Bojaxhiu and no, I can't pronounce it either.
- ✓ Albanians nod when they mean "no" and shake their head when they mean "yes".
- ✓ Albania was never part of the USSR but fiercely communist.

Don't worry, you are not alone! Albania has been described as Europe's last unexplored corner, with stunning mountains, sandy beaches and boasts more than 3,250 species of plants, around 30 per cent of all the flora in Europe. This small Balkan country sits just across the Adriatic and Ionian seas, only 45 miles from Italy, where the Strait of Otranto squeezes the Adriatic to its narrowest point. Greece is to the south and Montenegro to the north, and it's backed by high mountains.

After World War II, Albania became a Stalinist state under Enver Hoxha, and remained staunchly isolationist, even from Russia until its transition to democracy after 1990. The 1992 elections ended 47 years of communist rule. Having spent nearly half of the 20th century isolated from the rest of the world, Albania remains somewhat a land of mystery. While 'the land of eagles' may be better known for its stormy communist past (with some 750,000 concrete bunkers still scattered around to prove it), it has a rich and diverse historical and cultural legacy.

Home to Illyrians, Romans and centuries of Ottoman rule, all have left their mark with impressive castles and fortified villages for us to wander in. This recce will explore the Southern mountains and beaches, great offroad driving and fascinating villages with time to chill on world class beaches before heading to the mountainous north. If snow melt allows then we'll explore the high northern Alps. The huge network of forest and mountain tracks are rough, rocky and typically neglected as a program of major road building has taken place. Expect some winching and slow progress, this is about as wild as you can get in Southern Europe.

Food and Shopping

Food is readily available even in small villages, there is a strong culture of home cooking and I'm sure we'll all get to try some traditional dishes in local restaurants as well! Meals can be cooked individually or communally; the choice is yours and we will co-ordinate and assist you with food purchasing while in country.

Schedule and Pace

The route and timings are not fixed, we will be free to break journey, stop and explore, as you desire. We aim to be in the campsite by 17.00 on most days to allow us to relax and enjoy the experiences of the day. The daily distances driven vary due to the terrain and ground conditions but a typical day will be 2-3 hours driving in the morning, 1 hour for lunch and then a further 2-3 hours driving. There will be at least 1 rest / non driving day during the trip when you'll be free to explore or rest as you choose, additionally there will be time to visit major sites and attractions on our route.

Outbound shipping

The crossings from Dover to Calais and Brindisi to Vlore are made by ferry and are included in the expedition price. You are free to specify your own preferred dates and times, then drive directly our meeting point in Italy and take the ferry – or take the long slow drive through Europe and the Balkans to meet us in Vlore, a great way to see some extra countries if you want.

Note – While this section of the expedition is unsupported by OneLife Adventure, we are happy for you to join us as we drive down to Brindisi – perfect while you get used to driving “on the wrong side”! Accommodation, meals and refreshments you take during this transit stage are not included.

Inbound Shipping

The return crossings from Vlore to Brindisi and Calais to Dover are made by ferry and are included in the expedition price. Again, you are free to break the return journey and specify the ferry dates and times, allowing you to extend your holiday as you choose.

Note – As for the outbound journey, this section of the expedition is also unsupported by OneLife Adventure but again you are welcome to join us for the return. Accommodation, meals and refreshments you take during this transit stage are not included.
